WHERE WE PLAY

PEBBLE BEACH

Voted “Top 10” courses to play in America and worldwide by Golf Digest. On most golfers’ bucket list Pebble Beach is located on the Pacific Coast of California. This course has held many PGA Professional tournaments including the 2000 US Open. Designed by Jack Neville and Douglas Grant, the course hugs the rugged coastline, providing wide-open vistas, cliffside fairways and sloping greens. It is a delightful challenge for all players. Such beauty and spectacular views will capture your imagination and thrill you with its creativity.

Pebble Beach Golf Course

SPYGLASS HILL

Spyglass Hill Golf Course is named after the classic novel “Treasure Island” by Robert Louis Stevenson. This is the area where Stevenson would gather ideas for his books. Robert Trent Jones Sr. designed the Course. A unique course usually saving the vistas for the final holes, Spyglass first five holes run along the Pacific Seas sandy dunes and the last 13 cut through a forest, Spyglass Hill Golf Course is considered one of the most difficult in the world from the back tees.

Spyglass Hill Golf Course

PINEHURST COURSE NO. 2

World Renowned as one of the best championship golf courses, No 2 proves the genius of Donald Ross on every hole. Host to 1999, 2005 and 2014 US Open, the course is astonishing yet invigorating for golfers of any age, skill or experience.

Pinehurst Golf Course

PINEHURST COURSE NO. 4

Visually stunning from tee to green, Gil Hanse created No. 4 in the timeless tradition of Carolinas Sandhill golf. Vast expanses of sand are exposed along the fringes of the course as well as in cross-fairway bunkers. Native wiregrass melds with the area's rolling topography. And dramatic vistas are everywhere one turns, helping to explain why this impressive course was chosen to host the 2019 U.S. Amateur just one year after it reopened in 2018 following Hanse's redesign.

PINEHURST COURSE NO. 8

Pinehurst No. 8 opened in 1996 to celebrate Pinehurst's first 100 years, earning it the nickname "The Centennial Course." Originally designed by Tom Fazio, No. 8 combines classic Pinehurst elements with the natural beauty of the landscape.

In 2022, No. 8 underwent subtle aesthetic and agronomic renovations. Leaving the course architecture untouched, No. 8 now boasts TifEagle greens, fully restored bunkers with fresh sand and improved drainage throughout the course. The result is a firmer, faster feel, the way Tom Fazio originally intended it.

The design of this course is unique when compared to other Pinehurst courses, but it still has that distinct Pinehurst feel. Designated as a Signature Sanctuary by the Audubon Society, you'll enjoy beautiful views of wetlands and plenty of longleaf pines. Featuring dramatic contours, elevation changes and movements in the fairways, each distinct hole will be sure to keep you engaged throughout your round.

THE RESERVE CLUB

Reserve Course The essence of The Reserve Club is the Reserve course, a superb Nicklaus Design. Upon its completion, the course was named by Golf Digest as one of the “Top Ten Best New Private Courses in America in 2003.” It has continually been named one of South Carolina’s top courses ever since. The course boasts a beautiful 6,995-yard layout featuring rolling terrain with plush fairways and picturesque vistas. Golfers enjoy a relaxed pace of play around this breathtaking layout – a scene that only a true architect could create. From the first tee shot to the last putt, golfers are mesmerized by the beauty of the layout and thrilled with the playability of the course. No matter your skill level The Reserve Course is a joy to play and keeps you wanting to come back more and more.

The Reserve Club Golf Course

THE RESERVE CLUB – HOLLOW CREEK

The Hollow Creek Course The newest addition is the Hollow Creek course, designed by Masters and U.S. Open champion Fuzzy Zoeller and famed architect Clyde Johnston, who is well known for his expert work on some of South Carolina’s top courses. The Hollow Creek course provides members with the opportunity to play another championship course which challenges golfer’s skills and leaves a lasting impression of The Reserve Club’s beauty. Each hole masterfully carved from the beautiful landscape, offers golfers pristine playing conditions and the best three finishing holes in our area.
